The power of bread

Bread draws us in...why? The power of it is undeniable. What is it about bread? Is it the careful selection of the ingredients? Is it the delicate sensitivity to the environment? To bake bread, there is a seductive pursuit of perfection in finding the ultimate balance of elements: ingredients, temperature, humidity, time, and technique. A pinch of this, a dash of that — suddenly everything changes.

Change can be good; yes, change can be very good. That is how we became blessed with such a diverse range of bread types. Simply adding optional ingredients or varying the amounts and/or techniques gives us a bouquet of baguettes, a multitude of multi-grains, and a selection of sourdough.

Whether you are fine-tuning the traditional types or exploring the exotics, Bakery and Brew offers the personalized help and high quality ingredients your quest for the perfect loaf demands. Our passion for baking inspires us to supply you with excellent products. Our portfolio of baking ingredients is second to none. Change up your menu by giving these options a try:
